School Meet To-Morrow.
Football prospects for the season will assume definite shape at the Christian Brothsume definite snape at the Christian Broth-ers College, the St. Louis University and the High School to-morrow, arrangements having been made at all three institutions to draw up at least the outlines of the

At C. B. C. a meeting will be held to-morrow evening at which a list of candi-dates for the team will be drawn up by Captain W. Jackson. More than twenty likely candidates are mentioned, and these will all be included in the list. Jackson will serve as captain of the team, Theodoric Bland as one of the managers, to prevent interference with Jackson's college work, and Schmallhorst, F. Brockmeier, Bernero and Bland will serve as coaches for the season.

prevent interference with Jackson's college work, and Schmailhorst, F. Brockmeier, Bernero and Bland will serve as coaches for the season.

St. Louis University men will turn out at Handlan's Park to-morrow and will commence their opening practice of the season. Several candidates for the team were out yesterday, including three members of last year's team. These were W. E. Johnson, center on last year's eleven; Ed McClean, ieft half last year and captain this year, and Dave Hickey, right guard last year. Among the post-graduates who will start work to-morrow are James McDowell, Frank Schriner, James Kinsella, Tom Davie and Harry Kieley. All are well-known players in the football world. Several promising younger men are also mentioned for the team, including Huck Ewing, sub quarter last year and brother of Mark Ewing, the well-known athlete.

At the High School there is hope for a good team, in spite of the lack of last year's men. Acting Captain Robert Claiborne and his men were out at the park yesterday morning, and some desultory practice was gone through will be uncertain until to-morrow, when plans will be formulated and a list of candidates prepared. Ben Gray is the only member left from last year, and he will be a feature in the formation of the team.

Practice by the St. Louis University men at Handlan Park yesterday was of the mildest description, the men merely limbering up and doing a little punting and running with the ball. Even this much was lacking at C. B. C. where baseball still holds sway, and work will not begin until Tuesday.

SECRET VISIT OF AMERICAN OFFICIALS.

Ban Johnson and Matt Killilea Preparing to Place a Club in St. Louis.

THEY ARE SECURING PLAYERS

Burkett, Wallace Harper and Nicl ols Said to Have Been Corralled for the New Organization.

Developments of the past few days, which have just come to light, indicate that officials of the American League are not losing any time in taking a preliminary view of the advantages offered by St. Louis for the establishment of an American League club in this city. During the present week Pre dent Ban Johnson of the American Leag and Matt Killilea, owner of the Milwauk club, were visitors in the city, and co are interested in the establishment of American League club in St. Louis. Johnson and Killilea were very caref however, to avoid newspaper men, and ever went to the precaution of registering at hotel under assumed names. They left it city Thursday and will at once figure on the details of the organization of a St. Lou-club for next season. The news of their more or less nocturnal call came to light yesterday, and as additional proof that the American League is beginning to build its St. Louis fences, inbeginning to build its St. Louis fences, information comes from Chicago that several members of the St. Louis National League club have signed to play in St. Louis next year with the American League. For some time rumors have been rife concerning the raid of the Robison aggregation to furnish drawing cards for the American League and these have now become so sharply defined that nothing short of a sweeping denial of the players referred to will check the belief that large inroads have been made in the ranks of the Cardinais. Killilea has had his eye on St. Louis ever since the American League began planning for the invasion. He denies in a half-hearted manner that the Milwaukee club hearted manner that the Milwaukee clu will be transferred to this city, but it i regarded as certain that Milwaukee will no regarded as certain that Milwaukee will not be on the circuit next year. With a further expanded circuit and an increase in salaries over the past year, owing to the continuance of the war between the two big leagues, it will be necessary for Killiler to seek a better paying city. Conditions have not been as favorable as they might have been in Milwaukee this year, owing to the position of the club in the race.

St. Louis Players May Beart

to the position of the club in the race.

St. Louis Players May Desert.

Hugh Duffy, manager of the Brewers, who has just returned from a long trip through the East, snys that he has corraled a number of National League players. He is said to have made the assertion that Burkett, Wallace, Harper and Nichols have been smared from the Robisons for the St. Louis American League team, which he claims is sure to be organized. If this quartet of performers transfers its allegiance to the American, the St. Louis club will be crippied indeed. Manager Donovan is also wanted by the American. It is considered certain that Donovan will not remain with the Robisons another year unless large inducements are offered him. Donovan has been harassed in his management by the action of minor officials of the club, but, although he has been dissatisfied, he has registered no open complaint. If Killilea can put up the necessary "scads" Donovan will more than likely be seen performing with the American next year.

With Donovan, Wallace, Burkett, Harper, Nichols, and possibly Heidrick, torn from them, the Robisons would be badly handicapped and would be compelled to resort to a complete reorganization to compete with the American. A team that would rival in popularity such a one as Duffy proposes to place in St. Louis for Killilea, could be obtained only by a free expenditure of money, and the local management is not noted for spending proclivities.

Beckley to Captain Team.

The backers of the new enterprise are said to have decided to make Jake Beckley of Cincinnati an offer to come to St. Louis as captain of the proposed team. No better man could be devolved the captancy of an American League team in the World's Fair City, Jake is a Missouri boy and has always been popular with the local fans. Jake is not only a good performer in an individual capacity, but has brains enough and aggressiveness in plenty. He is a good leader and is well fitted to assume managerial duties. With a team such as Killilea dreams about to pilot, Beckley s St. Louis Players May Desert.

the American would be assured of a good paironage.

Athletic Park May Be Chosen.

Athletic Park may be selected for the home of the Americans in St. Louis. With the addition of about 500 feet of ground, which it is said can be obtained without much trouble the grounds would be roomy enough to accommodate all comers and a new grand stand and bleachers would afford sufficient seating capacity. A deal for the possession of Handlan's Park was on, but it was abandoned by Johnson and Williams during their recent visit.

It now looks as if it would be war to the knife this winter, and while the merry battle between the two big leagues is being waged, St. Louis will not be the least point of interest. St. Louis is recognized as one of the best, if not the best, basehall towns in the country, and could support both teams if the attendance was evenly divided, providing that both aggregations maintained good positions in the percentage columns. The schedules will not necessarily conflict and games could be arranged so that the local followers of the great national sport could witness a contest nearly every day during the season. Both could play 50-cent ball and draw crowds, providing a hot pace was set.

Within a few weeks at the most the out-ball and draw crowds, providing a hot pace was set.

Within a few weeks at the most the outline of the fall campaign of invasion and player-grabbing will be plainly visible to the public cye. It behooves the present management to do some tall hustling or the Americans will soon be odds-on favorites in the running. Besides the players mentioned, one or two of Philadelphia national stars are said to have been approached, and "Topse" Hartsel, the brilliant suburbanite of the Chicago club, who made a good impression on local fandom, is reported to have been handed the tip that he is wanted here also. As yet, Hartsel has not signed with Hart for next year.

WEEKLY BANK STATEMENT.

Normal Conditions Assured by Government Bond Purchases. Government Bond Purchases.

New York, Sept. 14.—The statement of the Associated Banks for the week ending to-day shows: Loans $572,295,100, decreased $12,579,700; droposits $391,433,000, decreased $12,579,000; droposits $391,433,000, decreased $157,000; lexal tenders $72,013,100, decreased $127,000; specie $187,955,700, decreased $1,570,100; total reserve $235,968,800, decreased $1,570,100; reserve required $222,858,200, decreased $4,064,775; surplus $7,110,550, increased $194,675.

The Pinancier says: "The bank statement of last week was made on rising averages for cash because of the large payments for bonds by the Treasury, which were only partially reflected in the return. The diversion into the banks of internal revenue collections, under Tuesday's order of the Secretary of the Treasury, did not become fully effective last week because, upon its promulgation, there were considerable sums in transit to the New York Subtreasury from Western points. From this diversion of internal revenue collections, therefore, there probably were moderately large amounts of money added to the each of the banks on Saturday and further contributions will be made early in the current week. The decision of Secretary Gage to continue to purchase 2, 4 and 5 per cent Government bonds may cause large offerings of such bonds this week, and upon the acceptance of these offerings of such bonds payment will be promptly made. Therefore, considering the above facts there would seem to be fairly large amounts of cash already in the banks not shown by the statement, and moderate sums which may be ressonably expected early in the week. If money rates could be kept firm without deranging speculation there would seem to be a reasonable assurance of imports of gold from Europe, sight exchange now being quite close to the gold-importing point. It is probable, however, that the relief which the money market has already received, and that which is in immediate proepert, will tend to restore normal rates for money, thus causing the postponement of gold imports from Europe."
